

The Writing Center Needs Volunteers

The Writing Center is looking for staff and student volunteers to serve as members of Editorial Boards that will determine winners of monthly writing contests. Responsibilities include reading and responding to ten contest entries and participating in a discussion of the entries. (Students who have entered a specific contest are ineligible to serve on that month's board.) Students will earn community service hours for their participation. Meetings will be held on Thursdays from 2:30-3:00 in the Writing Center.

Please sign up below. Peggy Silva will contact you with further details.
